October meeting will be our lace "garage sale". Bring lace-related items to sell or give away, but please take home anything that doesn't sell.

Upcoming demo dates:

Yamhill County Fair is this coming weekend, but we are not scheduled to demo, this year.

Clark County Fair is next week; we're demoing on 8/9.

Clackamas County Fair is 8/16. Bev is our contact person.

State Fair demos are 8/30 and 9/3 – contact Bev if you want to demo.

Salem Handweavers Sale is 10/6 & 7 – contact Bev.

Oregon Flock and Fiber is 10/14-15 – contact Bev.

New Business: upcoming election of officers will be in November. Members who are interested in running for office should contact a member of the nominating team by mid-September: Jackie, Marilyn, or Lise. They will determine the slate and it will be published in the October Roseground.

Elizabeth Peterson's class is 10/20-10/22 at Jackie's house, 9:30-4:30 with an hour for lunch. She will be teaching Beds and Bruges; info on registration will be coming in an email, soon.

PLS Meeting Notes for 9/7/23

Bev called the meeting to order with 15 present.

Treasurer's report: we have $6,857.55 in checking.

Bev gave a talk about some of her adventures during her OIDFA trip last month.

Lynda will be ordering new PLS business cards. We discussed who should be our contacts printed on the back: Pauline (Vancouver/Portland, bobbin lace), Joyce (Yamhill county area, bobbin lace), Melissa (Beaverton, tating) and Venessa (Salem, tating). There are also beginner teachers listed on the website.

Bev told us about a display the Mission Mill Sheep to Shawl organizer showed at the state fair, that had samples of all the things their various demo groups make with wool. It's great publicity for PLS, as it will continue to be on display at various venues.

OFFF: we still have not heard anything from them regarding demonstrations.

Bev has asked that we all try to do what demonstrating we can, as we've had trouble not having enough bodies to cover breaks at some of the events.

Handweaver's sale is 10/6 and 10/7 at Mission Mill, in the dye house.

Social media:

Facebook – we have a group, but it is currently private.

Joyce will work on making it public. There are also other bobbin lace groups on Facebook that are more active: Bobbin Lace Making is one, and they have a general chat on FB Messenger where Tina and LeAnn have been very active and posting about IO-LI, OIDFA, and PLS meetings.

Tumblr – Kary has volunteered to post for us.

Others? We need younger volunteers to take point on other social media platforms that we aren't familiar with. Many hands make lighter work!

The nominating committee is working on a slate – please contact Lise, Jackie, or Marilyn if you are interested. We do have an opening for VP, but all positions are available to put your name in. The slate will be published in the next Roseground.

The Australian Lace Guild thanked us for the triangles; they hope to have them all mounted by Christmas. Bev asked them to send photos.

Meeting adjourned for show and tell.

LeAnne Smith, Secretary

On the left is the picture of the Bobbin Lace piece done by Beverly and the tatted flower done by Mary Richards. Thank you both for showing the Mission Mill what we can do with wool.

Nominating Committee Jackie Nissen, Marilyn Charles and Lise Driggers put forth the following for next term officers:

Tina Johnston - President

Melissa Hallnor - Vice President

LeAnne Smith - Secretary

Joyce Clow - Treasurer

Voting is at the November meeting.

Sreen at recent meetings - - - -

LeAnne finished her piece from her class at IOLI. Ulrike at her best. Look at all those threads, there was a bobbin at the end of each. Looks like a lot to me.

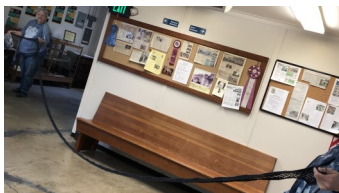

These are the latest projects from Henry Rose. She is doing well for a new lacemaker. Great to see such enthusiasm.

Love the coaster and angel from Susan. Good use of display items.

Tommie has been clicking her needles again. Love the spirals. Remember the miles and miles of edging she showed us at a recent meeting? Well, she put the edge on a needle and kept going until she got to the middle and wow, here is the finished shawl.

So LeAnne is working her way through Ulrike's book. There are two ways to work these and she has tried both. Not for the faint of heart, pun intended.

River has a big smile and who wouldn't after completing this beautiful knitting.

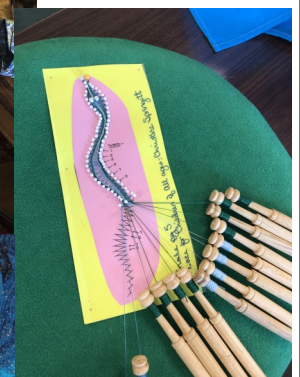

Pauline shared her latest Tonder projects done in preparation for the class with Bobbi Donnelly. Love the heart corners on the edging.

Judy decided to make a wedding hanky for her friend. We have all been at the hairy too many magic threads spot. She came to my house and worked her magic with the threads.

She is passing along her love of lace to her daughter. She came to a Saturday meeting and her snake is coming along just great.

So finished and all the threads gotten rid of. Even embroidered initials in the right hand corner if you look close. Happy bride to be and happy Judy.

So off to the fair we all went. The ladies going to the Clark County Fair really took the ribbons.

First, Virginia did a bang up job on this quilt — I see two ribbons there.

Lynda did a good job too. Look at all the blue ribbons. I recognize the sunflower from Louise's class, and the "think outside the box" project she did at IOLI. The little Idrija flower is just too cute. Who knew she was a quilter too. We see projects throughout the year, so fun to see them with a blue ribbon.

Pauline says, nothing new here that we saw it all during the year, but it is nice to see them all with their blue ribbons. Inspiration to keep our projects and enter them in the fair.

So, maybe I should start with this one completed while at the fair. They insisted I get in front of the camera at the last meeting, so here is my mug shot with completed project.

Sunday at the State Fair.

Melissa, Carol, Beverly with big smiles.

Sherilynn looking over my shoulder.

Jackie behind the camera, smile Jackie.

This time it is Melissa behind the camera and Sherilynn, Jackie and (me) Jean smiling at you.

We had a great time both days.

My tiny Italian pillow with a small Idrija project. Something to get done in just two days.

Love this little portable pillow with carrier bag. Everything in one place.

Our happy travelers on their way - - -

What a great time they had. It was fun getting text messages and pictures.

So much to see, you just have to get them to show you the stuff they saw.

Many pictures they are willing to share. Just ask.

This was a view from their dorm room. Look at that sky, you will need to ask them about the storm that flooded everything and even kept some of the vendors away because the roads washed out.

I understand that the mosquitoes were big enough for pets and sort of put a damper on things, but they soldiered on.

Making lace, shopping, shipping,

I sent my order in a text and got a book and thread . Could have done more I guess, but there was too much to choose from.

They took the class for this great rose. Beverly was in good company with the ladies from Malta who wanted to have her rose pictured with theirs. If you look close, the one on the right is done in color. That one is Beverly's. Good job huh?

Carol's is almost done. I saw it at the fair. The teacher is putting out a book soon and we can all make one of these if we buy her book. I'm on the list.....

More pictures next time.
